

To Whom It May Concern:

The Canadian Union of Postal Workers (Local 854) makes this submission to the Canada Post Corporation Strategic Review.

Canada Post Corporation is a profitable company which is an integral part of all communities whether a large city or a small community. Universal public postal service is essential to all.

The Government choosing not to share this review with the public can only lead one to believe that the public will bear the cost if and when Postal Service is deregulated.

We believe that Canada Post should continue to serve the public as is: "From anywhere...to anyone"
