

In your inquiry process, I sincerely hope you realize that postal deregulation in other countries has directly lead to office closures, less or no service, fewer jobs and higher postal rates for both the public and small business.

The government must realize that a nation must maintain certain services in its hands in order to ensure that all sectors of its society are served equally. That's why humans live in groups.

Fernando J. B. Goncalves
Ontario