

If it is working well, and it is, why allow an ideologically driven change to privatization! That would simply be a political move appealing to our present Government, but anathema to ordinary Canadians who are now finding our current system for "post" working quite satisfactorily. Canada Post is working just fine. It is a service for which we pay taxes. That is why we pay taxes - for "service" provided.

Bob Anderson
Alberta